AEE Announces Election of 2010 Officers

Dr. Eric Woodroof named as President-Elect of Association of Energy Engineers

Atlanta, GA, July 2, 2009 - Al Thumann, Executive Director, and Richard Costello, Chair of Nominations & Elections, announced on Thursday the election of Dr. Eric Woodroof to the office of President-Elect of the Association of Energy Engineers for the year 2010. Woodroof will be installed as President-Elect at the AEE Awards Banquet on November 4 during the World Energy Engineering Congress to be held at the Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Woodroof, founder of ProfitableGreenSolutions.com, holds a Ph.D. and is a Certified Energy Manager and a Certified Carbon Reduction Manager. He currently serves on AEE's CEM Board and is Chair of the CRM Board. He previously served as Secretary of AEE. He is a columnist for several industry magazines.

The Association of Energy Engineers is a nonprofit professional organization that specializes in training, membership development, chapter development, and certification for professionals practicing in the fields of energy management, renewable energy and green buildings. The mission of AEE is to promote the scientific and educational interests of those engaged in the energy industry and to foster cooperative action in advancing the common purposes of its members and to promote activities designed to enable the industry to be conducted with the greatest economy and efficiency. AEE conferences and expositions are held three times each year. Each conference and show features the leading experts in the industry, as well as a multidimensional exposition.

Established in 1977, AEE is celebrating its 32nd year with over 10,000 members in 77 countries and 67 chapters around the world.
